

322BC

Demosthenes died at CALAURIA .
Aristotle died at CHALCIS

1912 Dates J-BK

C 322 BC

384-322 BC

ARISTOTLE

Greek Philosopher

322 \Rightarrow 288 BC

Theophrastus head of the Lyceum

322BC

In Campaigns of Alexander the Great very powerful catapults first appeared (pg 150 Scientific American Mar 1979)
Alexander the Great = Alexander III

After 323 BC

Ptolemy, Seleukos and Kassandros made a defensive alliance and killed Antigonos at the Battle of IP SOS in PHRYGIA before his son Demetrios could come to his aid

Demetrios was captured by Seleukos in whose humane custody he drank himself to death

322 B.C.

Battle of Crannon Greek rebellion against Macedonian rule ended
when Macedonian Army
under Antipater defeated rebel Greek forces.
Ended the LAMIAN War.

3228C

Chandragupta founded Mauryan
Empire in India

322BC

Deaths of Aristotle - Demosthenes and Diodorus.

322 BC,
~~334 BC~~

Egypt Chronologists

When the Greeks began to rule Egypt after the conquest of Alexander III the Great (332 BC), King Ptolemy II Philadelphus, hoping to acquaint the new ruling class with the history of the conquered country, commissioned MANETHO, an Egyptian priest from Sebennytos, to write a history of Egypt in the Greek language. As Manetho had access to the ancient animal, he added some of the entire to his list of kang and reiguo, especially during the first dynasty. The man he perceived in him, the man he added orthodox traditions and stories as they are compared by 294 p'tan. First to discuss moral problems in the doctrine of a historical "here". But mountains work, too is not except for some objects used by Sertio giving Africans and Locusts in making their channels!

PAPYRUS C322BC

Papyrus was the pithy stalks of the Egyptian marsh PAPYRUS that were made into paper by a most painstaking and ingenious method. No species of papyrus other than the Egyptian was ever successfully used to manufacture paper.